Damaged Airliner After Air Collision

This is a general view of the damaged Pan American World Airways airliner which landed at Mitchell Field, N. Y., after a mid-air collision with a small private plane over Port Washington, N. Y. Bodies of two persons in the private plane were catapulted into the airliner's hull by the crash. The airliner's crew and passengers were uninjured.

Auto Hits Tree In Port Ewen; Two Men Hurt

Marshall Kithcart, 20, and Joseph Washington, 25, Each Received Broken Leg

Two men each received a broken leg, cuts about their faces and possible other injuries early Sunday morning when the automobile in which they were riding crashed head-on into a tree in Port Ewen, the sheriff's department reported. Marshall Kithcart, 20, of Glasco, and Joseph Washington, 25, of 246 Catherine street, were taken to Kingston Hospital, where both are in good condition today, according to hospital authorities.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Haver and Ray Wingo, who investigated, said the automobile, a 1946 sedan, was "a complete wreck." The car driven by Kithcart, was traveling north on Route 9-W in the village of Port Ewen when it left the roadway and struck the tree, the deputies reported. When the sheriff's office men arrived at the scene, Kithcart was lying on the pavement beside the left side of the car, and Washington was lying across the front seat. Both were conveyed to the hospital by a W. N. Conner ambulance. The accident occurred about 3:25 a. m. Sunday.

AFL Opens Its Winter Session

Miami, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP)—American Federation of Labor leaders opened their midwinter meeting today privately lauding many features of the administration's new labor law proposals.

Members of the A.F.L., executive council steered clear of any direct comment until the council carefully studies the proposals with lawyers.

But they obviously were happy over such features as the proposed elimination of the ban against the closed shop, a form of compulsory union membership traditional with many old-line A.F.L. craft unions, and proposed elimination of many of the Taft-Hartley court injunctions.

Actually, the council decided to wait until the arrival here of George Harrison, president of the Railway Clerks Union, who represented the A.F.L. in Washington talks with the administration's bill drafter, Harrison may arrive late today.

A.F.L. President William Green noted that the A.F.L. wanted a "two-package" approach—that is, repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and reenactment of the former Wagner act in one bill, then certain additional "improvements" in another bill.

However, Green said: "We will give this single package very careful study, particularly as to the legal aspects, and our counsel will have to check it before we can say how we stand on it."

To Consider Housing

Postponing consideration of the labor law proposals, the council was expected to consider a housing plan reported to call for vastly increased federal help in building public housing and low-cost dwellings for sale and rent.

The housing plan under consideration is expected to go considerably farther than the Taft-Hartley bill, the A.F.L. supported in the 80th Congress, but which was never enacted.

The A.F.L. building trades and representatives of the employing contractors have been meeting here for several days in advance of the executive council meeting.

With considerable enthusiasm they voted to continue a year-old plan of settling jurisdictional disputes.

Shufeldt to Head Red Cross Drive

Quota for 1949 Will Put Less Strain Upon City Donors

Fabian L. Russell of Saugerties, president of the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced the appointment of Alexander J. Shufeldt of this city as chairman of the annual fund campaign which will be conducted during the month of March to raise Ulster county's share of Red Cross relief funds.

The quota set for Ulster county this year is $27,400, somewhat less than the quota last year.

Announcement of the acceptance of the chairmanship was made at a meeting Friday of the directors of the Ulster County Chapter, held in the Chapter Home on Clinton avenue, it being the first meeting of the directors since the Chapter moved into its own home, made possible through the generosity of the late Annie M. Newton who left funds for the purchase of a Chapter home.

President Russell presided at the meeting which was attended by 23 of the directors.

A report of the treasurer was made by Evelyn D. Hubbard, executive director, showing the Chapter in good financial condition.

Russell announced the donation of 2,000 adventure books, pocket size, by James Quinn, president of the Quinn Publishing Company, whose offices are located in the Chapter house. These books will be distributed through the local Red Cross chapter to the army and navy hospitals in this area and also to the local Tuberculosis Hospital.

Pilot Lands 33 Passengers Safely After Air Crackup

Two Men Killed in Plane Which Hit Liner in Sky Over Port Washington

New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—A giant airliner, gashed open by a small private plane in a collision 4,000 feet in the air, made a safe emergency landing yesterday with its load of 33 persons uninjured.

The engine and front part of the private plane, the body of one of its occupants and part of the body of the other were imbedded in a jagged hole in the top of the four-engine Pan American World Airways Constellation.

The planes crashed over Port Washington, N. Y., and Captain George Knuth skillfully landed the Constellation at Mitchell Field, about ten miles away.

The collision occurred a few minutes after the airliner, "Monarch of the Skies," had left La Guardia Field for London at 4:17 p. m. (E.S.T.) carrying 33 passengers and ten crew members.

Most of the passengers left for London on other planes early today.

The dead are Arthur Duttling, 57, pilot, of Portland, Conn., and his passenger, Eugene Kowalczyk, 35, of Middletown, Conn.

Those aboard the airliner escape by a stroke of luck when a hole 15 feet long and five feet wide was gouged out of the top of the fuselage. The front of the small Cessna 140 plane was imbedded just to the rear of the Constellation's flight deck in a space devoid of the galley and to some made-up berths. There were no passengers or crew at the spot when the planes collided.

'Flow Into Top'

Knuth, pilot of the airliner, said the small plane "flowed into the top" of the Constellation. It was daylight and the weather was clear.

Malcolm Wade, his co-pilot, said there was a sound "like a tremendous fire blowout," and the Constellation "shuddered and dropped" before it was gotten under control for a landing.

Two tires of the big plane's wheels burst when it landed at Mitchell Field, an air force base. The liner's aerial had been ripped apart, cutting its radio communication.

The body of the passenger of

West May Reply to Soviets With Bid to Norway to Join

Reds Think Top Chiefs Will Meet

Stalin's Answer Is Made in General Way, Has No Indication of Washington Trip

Sees No Obstacles Blockade Lifting Hinges on Two Conditions Set by Soviets

Moscow, Jan. 31 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin's latest pronouncement has convinced many Russians their leader is going to meet President Truman. Foreign diplomats here are much more cautious—even doubtful.

The question: "Will Stalin and Truman meet?" is the gambit for many conversations among the Muscovites today and the answers follow the same pattern: "I believe they will."

An American newsman asked Stalin, in writing:

"Would Your Excellency be prepared to confer with President Truman at a mutually suitable place to discuss the possibility of concluding such a pact of peace?"

Stalin's reply yesterday was: "I have already stated before that there is no objection to a meeting."

One foreign diplomat commented: "Truman has said he'll be glad to meet Stalin in Washington any time. Now Stalin says there is no objection to a meeting, but notice, the answer is general. It does not specify where, or even at a mutually suitable place."

The Russian leader also said the Soviet government would be willing to discuss a joint declaration of peaceful intentions and gradual disarmament.

(Stalin has said previously that he would be willing to meet with Mr. Truman. The President, in turn, has offered to meet with Stalin any time the Soviet leader's will come to Washington. Officials in Washington pointed out, however, that there has been no official approach for such a meeting.)

In answer to a series of four questions, Stalin also said Russia "sees no obstacles" to lifting the Berlin blockade if the western powers meet two conditions.

Two Points Desired

One would be postponement of the establishment of a western German state pending a meeting of the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers on the entire German issue. The other would be lifting of the Allied counter-blockade.

(The offer to lift the Berlin blockade if the Allies first meet in the Foreign Ministers Council also has been made previously. The question of timing has upset settlement attempts on this basis.)

A proposal advanced in last fall's U.N. Security Council meeting in Paris calling for lifting of the blockade and a meeting of the Foreign Ministers 30 days later was vetoed by the Soviet's Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Stalin's statements answered questions submitted by Kingsbury Smith, general European director of International News Service.

The statements followed by two days a Soviet 34-page White Paper asserting the projected North Atlantic pact is intended to set up American-British world domination by force.

The proposed pact would link the defenses of the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. Other western countries might be added later.

In another move linked with the Soviet attack on the Atlantic pact, the Soviet asked Norway Saturday whether it proposed to join the alliance and whether it planned to grant military bases on Norway.

(World capitals studied Stalin's statements in the light of what has appeared to be a recent "peace offensive" by Russia and Communists in other countries. The recent Russian peace, while charging the U. S. in particular with aggressive aims. Official comment from the west has been that the Russians' words mean little unless they are backed with acts demonstrating her peaceful intentions.)

Thefts Reported

Police were notified at 8:24 a. m. Sunday of a series of thefts at 18 Chambers street. The report said that gas had been taken from a car, oil from a barrel in the yard, and two hub caps and a gas cap were taken from the auto.

Republicans Plan Aid For Small Business

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—Two Republican lawmakers plan to ask the legislature tonight to create a temporary state commission to study the needs of small businesses in the state.

Senator Seymour Halpern and Assemblyman Fred W. Preller, both of Queens, said they will introduce a bill to set up the commission.

The commission also would consider the feasibility of establishing a state bureau of small business.

"The future progress of the state," Halpern and Preller said in a joint statement, "depends to a great extent upon encouraging small businesses to take the initiative in expansion programs. The result would mean increased employment rolls and many new jobs in the state."

Budget Is To Be Given

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—Governor Dewey will ask the Republican-controlled legislature tomorrow to impose record-high state taxes to finance an unprecedented spending program this year.

He will request, in his budget message, appropriations for many millions more than the $812,000,000 provided in the 1948-49 budget.

Exactly how much money will not be made public until Dewey sends his budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1 to the Senate and Assembly tomorrow.

But it will be at least $100,000,000 more, Dewey himself has disclosed that much in recent statements.

He also has stated repeatedly he would like to pay-as-you-go policy in proposing increased expenditures and therefore would ask increased taxes.

"It is no secret," Dewey told the Albany Chamber of Commerce Saturday night, "that the budget is going to be bigger than ever before."

"And it is no secret," he added, "that taxes will have to go up."

Dewey, in recent weeks, has talked of raising $169,000,000 in new revenue by increasing the personal income, gasoline and corporate franchise taxes.

He has suggested a 100 per cent collection of the income tax, now collected at 60 per cent of the legal rate; a one-cent a gallon increase in the gasoline tax which would raise it to five cents, and a one-cent per cent boost in the corporate franchise tax which would bring it to five and one-half per cent.

Dewey removed all doubt that his new budget would top previous ones by what he announced last Monday night in a special message to the legislature that he would propose an overall increase in state aid for education of $100,100,000.

The sum he proposed included $40,000,000 in aid to public schools above the $41,600,000 required by the 1948 Poinsett law. The additional $40,000,000 appeared to have satisfied Republican legislators who up to last week had been demanding a substantial boost above the mandated amount.

But signs of new unrest developed over the week-end.

Twenty-four of the 28 Republican assemblymen who broke last year with the Dewey administration on aid to education were invited to a meeting in the capitol tomorrow.

Reox Sends Bids

The invitations were sent by G.O.P. Assemblyman Harry A. Reox.

Meat Consumers Benefit Only in Part, Is Report

Chicago, Jan. 31 (AP)—Meat consumers "have only benefited in part from much lower livestock prices" in recent months, reports a livestock marketing analyst.

H. M. Conway, in an article in the National Live Stock Producer, an industry trade paper, said "with current retail prices of meat about the same as a year ago, it is quite evident consumers have only benefited in part from much lower livestock prices."

"Both wholesale and retail values have lagged greatly in getting down from last summer's peak. This delay, especially at retail, has greatly retarded the movement of meat into consumption channels and has held consumer costs at a relatively high level as compared with the available supply for consumption."

Staatsburg Man Killed in Accident; Car Struck Pole

Was Driving on Route 9 Near Hyde Park; Was Thrown to Road, Report Says

Walter Miller, 23, of Staatsburg, was killed about 1:50 p. m. Sunday when he was thrown from the automobile he was driving after the automobile left the highway, glanced off a light pole and struck a stone wall about one and one-half miles north of Hyde Park state police reported.

The apparently lifeless form of Miller was discovered several minutes later by a truck driver, Arthur Herbert, Schenectady, who notified State Trooper Walter Donegan of Hyde Park and summoned an ambulance. Dr. Cotter, assistant Dutchess county medical examiner, pronounced Miller dead on arrival at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Trooper Donegan said Miller was driving south on Route 9 in an automobile belonging to Walter Doyle, Staatsburg garage man. The automobile, a 1936 Ford sedan, left the west side of the highway, glanced off an electric light pole, struck a stone wall, bouncing off and coming to a stop on the highway about 50 feet south of the pole which was struck, Donegan said. Apparently the car had overturned after hitting the wall, but it was resting on its wheels when others arrived at the scene, he reported.

Miller was thrown to the concrete, where he was lying when discovered by the truck driver. Later medical examination disclosed Miller died of injuries consisting of a broken neck, crushed chest, broken ribs on the lower left side, broken left scapula, possible fractured skull, contusions, abrasions and lacerations about the face and body, according to a report received by Donegan. A verdict of accidental death was given by the assistant medical examiner.

Miller, believe to have been an employee of the Western Printing and Lithographing Company of Poughkeepsie, had left his own automobile at Walter Doyle's garage in Staatsburg and was using the automobile loaned to him by Doyle, Trooper Donegan said. The automobile was a complete loss, the trooper said.

Miller was alone at the time of the accident, according to the trooper.

No Action Is Foreseen

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—No immediate action was expected today on the army's renewed request that the State Department take over its administrative headaches in Germany. Secretary of the Army Royal headed for Japan, leaving with President Truman his formal recommendation that as soon as possible civilians rather than soldiers should get the job of running occupied Germany. He urged the switch after returning early this month from a tour of Germany. In Japan, he will study economic problems, but is not expected to suggest the State Department take over.

Hurried relief officials who marshaled planes to move fodder to livestock before snow-blocked roads could be opened, had reports from areas west of Omaha, Neb., that food and fuel were short. The army in Washington said everything is being done to get food and fuel to the isolated areas.

The Fifth Army in Chicago reported some areas have been without rail communication since the start of the storm.

Ives Feels G. O. P. Is to Blame For Some Democratic Gains

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—Senator Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) feels the Republican party is "threatened with extinction" as a result of continued Democratic success in national elections.

Speaking at Syracuse University's 90th commencement program yesterday, Ives declared, however, that "the present Republican predicament is due in part to Republican blindness and ineptness."

Ives, who was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree, said that continuation of America's two-party system "is the challenge which faces the Republican party."

"As a result of prolonged and continuous one-party control in this country," Ives declared, "the opposition is now threatened with extinction, and the American people are threatened with the unhappy fate which has overtaken other free peoples of the world."

Sanitation Department Sends 7,500 Into Action at Start of Storm

New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—A swirling snowstorm today changed to rain, melting New Yorkers' expectation of a heavy fall.

About three inches fell before the squalid snow changed to rain. Earlier, the Weather Bureau had said the snow might continue until tomorrow.

The snow, which began falling at dawn, lowered visibility in the city's busy harbor. It forced a Coast Guard cutter which set out on a routine trip with customs officials to meet the liner Marine Perch to return to its berth.

Into action immediately went the city's Sanitation Department cleanup corps—7,500 men and 1,822 pieces of snow removal equipment.

Northeast storm warnings were raised from Block Island to the Virginia Capes as the storm moved in from the south.

Many domestic and trans-Atlantic airline flights were cancelled because of the storm. Some inbound flights from overseas were held at Boston and Miami. One trans-Atlantic flight was delayed at Gander, Newfoundland.

The Long Island Railroad announced that it had put its snow-fighting program into action at 5:25 a. m. The railroad switched on thousands of electric and gas-operated switch and third-rail heaters to keep electric contacts and switches in working order. A force of 1,000 maintenance men was also assigned to clear switches, crossovers, grade crossings and station platforms, a spokesman for the railroad said.

Patrol trains were reported standing by for use after the morning rush hour to keep electrified tracks clear. Snow plows and other snow-removal apparatus were kept in readiness at Montauk, Greenport, Speonk, Ronkonkoma and Jamaica to prevent formation of drifts on snow-powered lines of the railroad.

Isolated Folk Are Problem Now

Nebraskans Say Food and Fuel Short; Fruit Belt Is Hit

(By The Associated Press)

The week-old "operation hay-lift" bringing fodder to snowbound livestock took second place today to a new major problem—getting food and fuel to isolated human beings.

Hurried relief officials who marshaled planes to move fodder to livestock before snow-blocked roads could be opened, had reports from areas west of Omaha, Neb., that food and fuel were short. The army in Washington said everything is being done to get food and fuel to the isolated areas.

The Fifth Army in Chicago reported some areas have been without rail communication since the start of the storm.

Will Seek Others; Red Talk Heard

Russian Action Seen as Pressure Placed on Norway; Nation Has Given Rejection

Action Is Expected Denmark May Receive Invitation if Any Interest Shown

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—The seven-nation group negotiating the North Atlantic security pact here expects soon to invite half a dozen more nations, including a Soviet-pressured Norway, to become full partners in the project.

This move probably will be the west's most dramatic answer to Russia's one-two punch against the North Atlantic alliance over the week-end.

Officials here interpreted the Soviet Foreign Office blast at the alliance Friday night and Generalissimo Stalin's statements yesterday as part of the same pattern of attack on the growing unity of the non-Communist western world and particularly the North Atlantic treaty.

Stalin came into the picture this time by saying he would have "no objection" to a meeting with President Truman at a "suitable place." He also talked in surface terms of good will toward peace. There was no quick official reaction here, from the White House or State Department.

Norway figures as the key country in current talks on western alliance, largely because she alone, of all the nations in the projected security league, has a common border with the Soviet Union.

The Russians recognized Norway's importance Saturday night by stating their criticism of the North Atlantic treaty formally and vacillating to the foreign office at Oslo.

They apparently made no specific threat or demand but left no doubt in the minds of observers here that they were doing their utmost diplomatically to put little Norway on the spot.

The Norwegians themselves apparently rejected the implied Russian warning and persisted in their intention, even against the advice of their neighbor Sweden, to line up firmly with the western league. This was strongly indicated last night when an announcement came from Oslo that efforts of the Norwegians, Swedes and Danes to agree upon a common Scandinavian policy had broken down.

Sweden had wanted a three-nation Scandinavian alliance; Norway had wanted a tie-up with the United States and other western powers through the Atlantic League, and Denmark had tried to develop a middle way.

Collapse of the talks finally opened the way for the seven nations negotiating the pact here in Washington to get on with their next major move. This still has to be formally agreed upon, but persons familiar with the action to date said there was no question now that it would be taken within ten days to two weeks.

The negotiators had not wanted to invite into the project any country not actively interested in joining it. As long as Scandinavian policy was undecided, the courses of Norway and Denmark could not be clear. Now that Norway's position presumably is clarified, invitations can go out as quickly as they can be agreed upon to the following nations:

Norway, Iceland, Ireland, Portugal and Italy. In addition, it officials find they are correct in their belief that Denmark is interested in obtaining a bid, Denmark also will be invited.

Boy, 9, Saves His Brothers; 2 Die; Child Aftermath

Troy, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—Nine-year-old Laverne Finnerly raced into a flame-swept farmhouse and pushed three brothers to safety through a first floor window. But he couldn't reach another brother and sister who died in the blaze.

Nine children and three adults were asleep in the two-story house at nearby Columbia Cross Roads when fire of an unknown origin broke out before dawn yesterday.

Gordon Finnerly, Laverne's uncle, was awakened by the smoke. He roused his wife. Snatching her 10-month-old daughter in her arms, Mrs. Finnerly ran barefoot downstairs through a wall of fire. The baby was unscathed but Mrs. Finnerly was singed all over her body.

Her husband, holding a four-year-old daughter, tried to follow her. The stairs collapsed. Then he ran to a window. The flooring gave way beneath him and he and his daughter leaped to safety.

Downstairs, George Finnerly awoke and hustled Laverne—one of his seven children at the house—out the front door. But Laverne heard his brothers and sisters screaming.

He ran back into the fiery house and pushed Gordon, 3; Parker, 7; and Marshall, 8, out through a window. His aunt returned to help Laverne's five-year-old sister, Janet, to safety.

Neither of them could reach Larry, one, and Eleanor, four. Their bodies were recovered hours later.

Meanwhile Laverne's mother was keeping at the Troy Hospital. She had just given birth to her eighth child.

Desmond to Offer Sleeping Pills Bill

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—A bill to tighten controls over the sale of sleeping pills in New York will be introduced in the legislature tonight by Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican.

Desmond said that "accidental deaths as well as suicides due to overdoses of sleeping pills require prompt action at this legislative session."

"My bill," Desmond said in a statement, "will forbid any druggist to refill a sleeping pill prescription unless a physician specifically authorizes such refill. No refills will be permitted prior to the time called for by the physician, nor, in any event, after a period of three months."

He added: "The present state law was adopted in 1916 after a strong, selfish pharmaceutical lobby, more concerned with the cash register than with lives, had misled the legislature into believing that stringent legislation was unnecessary. Existing state law permits refills unless the physician specifically bans them in writing."

Desmond said his measure would bring state controls over the sale of sleeping pills in line with New York city regulations which he described as "iron bound."

SHOOTING SUSPECT SEIZED IN GUN BATTLE

Detective Lt. Frank Demarest (left) grasps the arm of a man identified as Elmer Stanford, 40, in a house on East 69th street in New York city. Stanford was wounded in neck and stomach during a gun battle with police searching for the rifleman who wounded a Catholic priest in a nearby church the night before. When police broke into Stanford's room, they found him lying on the floor, a rifle beside him. Police said the suspect had emptied clip of his .22 caliber rifle, held by Demarest.

Trailways Garage Fire on Sunday

A fire in gasoline and oil on the floor of the Adirondack Trailways garage, Broadway and Pine Grove avenue, late Sunday morning, was checked by employees before it spread to a point of serious danger.

Firemen were called at 11:24 a. m., but the blaze, which had caused a dense smoke, was checked with extinguishers before their arrival. Equipment from Central and Willwyck stations responded. Damage was slight, but the blaze was a serious threat to 12 buses in the garage at the time, firemen said.

An oil burner out of adjustment at the home of Robert Steeger, 136 West Pierpont street, resulted in another alarm at 5:42 p. m. Sunday. The trouble was checked before damage resulted. Firemen from Cornell station responded.

Two Are Arrested

Kearny, N. J., Jan. 31 (AP)—A man and a woman charged with stealing a truck-load of furniture from a house in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., were arrested here last night half an hour after the police alarm went out. Hudson County Police Lieut. Arthur Klein said he spotted the truck on county road near Kearny firehouse. He identified the two Negroes as Claude W. Garner, 39, of Rt. 2, Robbins, N. C., and Virginia Williams, 39, of Rt. 1, Robbins. The police alarm on the theft said two persons had threatened a Mt. Vernon woman with guns in her house and then loaded most of her furniture on the truck. The alarm charged the pair with grand larceny. Garner was booked at Hudson county police headquarters as a fugitive from justice. The woman was held as a material witness. Both were returned to Mt. Vernon.

Three Students Hurt as Car Skids

Potsdam, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—Three Cornell University students were injured, yesterday, one so severely it was feared he may not live, when their automobile skidded on an icy highway and crashed into a tree near here.

State Police said Morton Camac, 25, of St. Louis, Mo., is in a critical condition and hospital authorities expressed doubt that he would live.

His companions, Norman Leslie Avon, 21, of Long Beach, L. I., identified by police as driver of the car, and Murray Peshkin, 23, of (3385 188th St.) Hollis, L. I., suffered less serious injuries.

The trio were on their way to a ski resort at St. Jovite, north of Montreal, police said. A private ambulance, which was returning from another call, stopped at the scene and brought the injured to a hospital here.

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—Fleming Newbold, president of the Evening Star, died unexpectedly early today. He was 75 years old. Newbold, who had been with the Star since 1890, became president on Feb. 18, 1948. He succeeded the late Frank B. Noyes who resigned the presidency to become chairman of the board. Noyes died last month. Newbold died at his home here, 1720 Massachusetts avenue, Northwest. He joined the Star as a clerk in the business office and had been vice president and manager before assuming the presidency. Newbold is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John Morris Legendre of Aiken, S. C., and Mrs. James Bush of St. Louis, and by four grandchildren.

General Is Head Of Paraguay; His Predecessor Scored

Asuncion, Paraguay, Jan. 31 (AP)—An army general headed Paraguay's provisional government today after dissident members of President J. Natalicio Gonzalez own party forced his resignation in a surprise coup yesterday.

The bloodless revolution which unseated the 50-year-old writer and poet who took office only five months ago was the sixth in 13 months in this landlocked country of 1,225,000 persons.

A hastily convened National Assembly last night elected Brig. Gen. Raimundo Rolon—defense minister under Gonzalez—to head the provisional government. The constitution requires a presidential election be called within the next two months.

The Asuncion radio charged the ousted government with misuse of public funds. It called Gonzalez "public robber No. 1."

Gonzalez' administration had been threatened constantly by dissatisfied members of his own Colorado party, identified as conservative, and by members of outlawed Liberal, Febrerists and Communist parties. Political refugee in other countries and joined in plots aimed at his overthrow.

(Reports from the Argentine side of the border said police and army forces quelled scattered demonstrations in support of Gonzalez. U. S. officials in Washington described the coup d'etat as the result of a contest for power within the Colorado party.)

Labor Minister Augusto Salvador, a leader of the coup, said the new government would seek peace with the country's many factions. Gonzalez, who led a revolution, himself, last year, had outlawed all opposition groups.

The army and police announced they would "guarantee order and tranquility in the whole Republic." Gonzalez, meanwhile, took refuge in the Brazilian embassy in Asuncion, under a Latin American treaty guaranteeing political exiles asylum and safe conduct from the country. Manuel Talavera, President of the Colorado party's governing board fled to the Argentine embassy.

Court Martial Denies Motion to Dismiss

Yokohama, Jan. 31 (AP)—A general court martial denied a defense motion to dismiss charges against Lt. Col. Arthur E. Tooze of Long Island, New York, after the prosecution rested at the conclusion of five days of testimony.

Tooze is charged with selling U. S. Topographical paper to Japanese for 4,310,000 yen ($15,925) between March, 1947, and October, 1948; with purchasing $231 in United States currency from a Japanese with yen and with renting a house from a Japanese although he was assigned quarters, by the army.

He is a member of a Topographical battalion. The defense motion was based on alleged illegality of a search warrant used by investigators in searching Tooze's apartment.

OUSTED BY PARTY

President J. Natalicio Gonzalez (above) of Paraguay was forced to take refuge in Brazilian embassy in Asuncion after his government fell to dissident elements in his own Colorado party. He had been in office for only five months.

Coney Island May Get Death Yacht as Sideshow

Long Beach, Calif., Jan. 31 (AP)—New York's Coney Island throngs soon may visit another sideshow—the Overell death yacht.

Mary E. The ill-starred 47-foot cabin cruiser was sold for $1,900 at auction yesterday to Leland A. Zeman, Los Angeles attorney, whose agent said he planned to ship it to Coney Island.

For the past 14 months the Mary E. has been on exhibit here before more than 150,000 people. At first the public paid 50 cents. Then 25 and at last 15 cents to view the craft, scene of the dynamite slayings of wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell in Newport Harbor, Calif., March 15, 1947.

The price of admission included a view of the ball-peen hammer the state claimed was a murder weapon in the murder trial of the Overells' daughter, Beulah Louise, and her then fiance, George (Bud) Collum, who were acquitted.

The display also included the shattered deck and a hole in the hull, all explained with neatly-lettered signs.

The Nicest Distance Between Two Points

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

In their admiration for Cadillac's beauty, and its wonderful world-wide reputation for quality and goodness, people sometimes undervalue one of the greatest Cadillac virtues of all—its marvelous comfort. To ride in a Cadillac is to experience the supreme satisfaction that can be derived from personal transportation. The person at the wheel is the quickest to sense this—for he is the special beneficiary of Cadillac comfort. He enjoys, of course—in common with the other occupants of the car—the matchless benefits of Cadillac balance and springing and roadability. But he enjoys, in addition, the driving ease of a feather-light steering wheel; a quick, powerful, responsive motor that knows no counterpart for agility and smoothness; big, dominant brakes that are as soft to the pedal as sponge rubber; and an over-all sure-footedness on the highway that reduces driving strain to the minimum. Somebody has said that, once you have driven a Cadillac, you're unhappy at the wheel of any other car. Certain it is that a ride in a Cadillac—whether as driver or passenger—is the nicest distance between two points! Have you driven a 1949 Cadillac—or ridden in one? If not, you ought to do so. You are welcome in our showrooms at any time.

School Building Program

No. 1: Revised Plan

At the November meeting of the Kingston Board of Education, a resolution was adopted authorizing Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw to "make a revised building program" based on the June 1944 report.

In 1944 the board, after an extensive study, submitted a program for improvement to the city's school system based on what was then deemed necessary and covering a long range plan which it was believed would take care of the school problem for years to come. At that time a plan was devised to eliminate some of the present old school buildings, many of which are over 75 years old and entirely inadequate under present standards, and to erect new school buildings at central locations which would care for expanding population centers as well as the anticipated increase in pupils.

As a result of that plan the board has acquired three sites: The Sahler property on Wall and Washington Avenue; the Haverbrook Park site and the Loughran Park site. Rapidly increasing costs however delayed the program and no new buildings have been erected.

The board's plan was to erect one school at a time, the first school to be erected being the one on the Sahler property. After remaining static for several years an increase in school population has now prompted the board to again deem action necessary. To bring the old plan up to date, the revised program was sought in order to meet present day needs.

At the meeting of the board Friday evening the revised building program was submitted by Superintendent Laidlaw. The new plan is not radically different from that suggested in 1944 but has been revised to cover some newly arisen emergencies. It still is a "long-range" plan devised to give the city the best possible schools at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers with the cost of the plan spread out over a long term of years.

This revised study which was presented to the board Friday evening, and which prompted the board to immediately vote to proceed with an addition to the Vocational school building to relieve immediately present day congestion in all of the school follows in part. Successive days will bring the components of the plan.

"Probably no branch of local government has changed more than in public education. Society is demanding that more services be rendered by the schools than ever before. A single example is the school lunch program which seems now to be fixed and integral part of the school's responsibility and which will continue in the years ahead. In fact there is good basis for the statement that this school lunch program will be expanded so as to include all children. This will require more adequate facilities than are now available in the Kingston Elementary Schools.

Furthermore, there seems to be a definite trend to extend the school's program downward to include pre-kindergarten or nursery school grades for younger children, and also to extend the program upward to include the 13th and 14th years, two years beyond the senior high school grades, for high school graduates.

The result will be a need for further building facilities. Increasing emphasis is being given to the area of physical education, probably resulting from the health examinations, both physical and mental, given our men and women who served their country during World War 2. Furthermore, our young people are now subject to universal military service and it seems to be the function of the school to prepare them, both physically and mentally, for the job ahead.

In the field of adult education there is an immediate demand for expanded program which will include not only courses in regular academic subjects but courses which train adults for leisure time activities. In Kingston the adult education program is a very important phase of the educational system, and careful consideration must be given to its needs.

New instructional techniques are being used. The results attained in the army and navy training programs have proven, beyond any doubt, the value of visual education. Our schools must be supplied with rooms and equipment to make this visual education program effective and successful. Every school building should have one or more rooms assigned entirely to this program, and in the high school building probably at least three (3) rooms will be needed for these classes.

When planning for new school buildings a most important requirement is adequate playground area. The area to serve the needs of the children should be located adjacent to the school building and should be easily accessible to the elementary classrooms. The minimum area for physical education and recreation for a 300 pupil school, exclusive of the building area, lawn, parking areas, etc., should be not less than three (3) acres, with one-half acre added for each additional 100 pupils. The kindergarten children should have a section of the elementary area of not less than 5,000 square feet set aside for their exclusive use.

In the June 1944 report attention was called to the need for modern kindergarten rooms with modern equipment in every elementary school building. Each elementary school in Kingston, with the exception of School No. 1, now has an organized kindergarten, but the rooms are inadequate in size and do not meet the minimum requirements for kindergartens, such as apparatus and equipment space, toilet facilities for kindergarten children, washrooms, rest room, storage space, etc.

Furthermore, not one of the elementary schools nor the Myron J. Michael School provides facilities for teaching how to use simple tools, instruction in handicrafts or instruction in domestic arts. (To Be Continued)

Your right to know!

A NEWSPAPER, like a lamp, is valued for the light it gives. The more you see and know the greater your freedom of action.

The facts and opinions, good and bad, pleasing and displeasing, that are brought to you by the newspaper give you knowledge on which to base your decisions about what to do to get more out of life—to earn more money, raise your family, protect your home and to enjoy all the rights of a free citizen.

Some men and women don't think you should have such freedom. They have other plans for you. They think you should change your way of life to fit their ideas. And as a part of their planning they include the newspaper.

Because they know they can control your thinking if they control your sources of knowledge, they are agitating for control of the press. Not only of newspapers but of all publications. And in the background is control of the radio and the movies. Each of these supplies information to you and helps you remain free. The newspaper is first on their list because it is your main source of facts and opinions.

From the newspaper you get the kind of information you need to see that you get the right representation in government and the right laws. You learn of crime and corruption, of good deeds and better products. You know what is happening and have a free choice of ideas.

That doesn't fit in with what certain individuals and groups have decided. They claim that editors are irresponsible and that you can't be trusted to read what the editors print. They propose a sort of over-all agency to pass on what shall be printed and what shall be read. Hitler had such a set-up. Stalin still has.

You may disagree with much that now appears in newspapers. You may argue for a more enlightened press. But, in place of the great variety of facts and opinions which newspapers now print, what is in prospect is one kind of facts and opinions selected and published to keep you incompletely informed and dutifully subservient.

The attack on a free press is an attack on your freedom. Freedom of the press is not the exclusive property of newspapers. It is your right also. It includes your right to print. And equally important, your right to read and know.

You can, if you wish, be passive and permit your enemies to shut you off from what is going on outside your own neighborhood. On the other hand, you can refuse to give up your right to read and decide for yourself according to your own common sense and conscience. Which do you want?

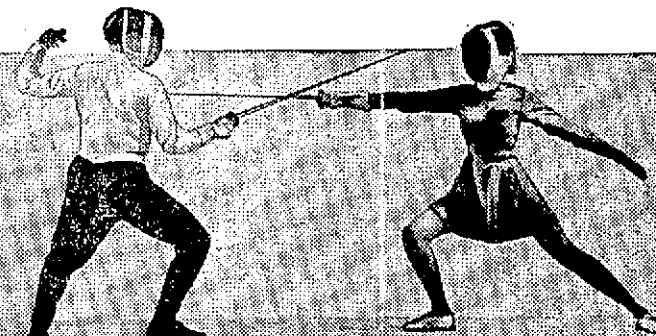

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

Its Gothic style and beauty, I recall.

I hear the organ play, a melody so sweet and true.
Like angels singing from long ago.

The folk, in prayer, their voices raise
And the choir is singing our dear Lord's praise.

Wagner College Choir Will Give Concert In Saugerties

A highlight of the spring musical season in Saugerties will be a concert of sacred music given by the Wagner College A Cappella choir at the high school auditorium April 29. The choir concert will be sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp, and the Lutheran Church of the Atonement, Saugerties. A joint committee from the two churches has begun preparations for this outstanding musical event.

Wagner Memorial Lutheran College, situated on Staten Island, has long been noted for its fine a cappella choir. Trained by directors who themselves have received their musical experience with the famed St. Olaf Choir under the guiding hand of Dr. F. Mellus Christensen, the Wagner Choir has been much in demand on tours throughout New York and New England.

The pastors of the two churches, the Rev. LaRoy S. Duffich and the Rev. Herbert U. Gibney, urge the public to watch for further announcements of this concert.

Since coming to Kingston, Mr. Ellis has sold his two Pennsylvania newspapers, the Delaware Valley Advance, published at Langhorne, Pa., and Morrisville Herald, Morrisville, Pa., both of which he edited and published for several years.

Overworked Stork Gets Help in Switzerland

Bern, Switzerland (AP)—There must be something wrong with what they say about storks.

Between 80,000 and 90,000 babies are born in Switzerland every year, yet Swiss nature lovers are complaining that storks have almost entirely disappeared from the country.

Nearly 150 nests were occupied by storks in Switzerland in 1900. By 1920, the number had declined to 60 and by 1940 to eight. In the summer of 1948, only six pairs of storks settled down in Switzerland, and artificial "resettlement" projects are being undertaken to prevent their complete disappearance.

Under the direction of a Swiss ornithologist, Max Bloesch, young storks are being bred in captivity. Their young are to be set free, in the hope that they will migrate, then return to the vicinity of their Swiss breeding places in the summer. The experiments are expected to cost the Swiss government about $3,500 per year.

Floral, plaid and striped upholstery fabrics are being shown on new outdoor furniture for summer use. The resin coating on the fabric is said to withstand abrasion and moisture and is highly resistant to alcohol, acids, alkalis, vegetable and body oils.

New York (NEA)—Floral prints are back in style, but showing no signs of seed-catalog influence on their designs.

The floral prints are used extensively for a new category of dresses—the little print that goes to dinner—proving themselves worthy to the last petal of the handsome silks over which they splash.

Buffet Supper at Valentine Dance

Patrons of the St. Valentine's dance in St. Peter's School Hall on February 12 will enjoy a buffet supper prepared by the members of the dance committee, according to plans formulated at a meeting of the parish club last Tuesday evening. The supper will be available at no extra charge. Since the club was formed for the purpose of providing a social outlet, especially for the young couples of the parish, it was not surprising to find three young men volunteering their assistance in the preparation of food.

Two fun-making balloons, the balloon dance and the Paul Jones, both very popular at the New Year's Eve party, will be repeated, along with several new contests. "Speed" Scherer's orchestra will play for dancing from 9 to 1. Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from members of the club or at the door. Information concerning tickets may be obtained by calling 1365-R or 944-W.

A report of progress and final details will be discussed at the next meeting of St. Peter's Parish Club on Wednesday at 3 p. m. New members are always welcome.

Sauce for Fish

An easily made and delicious sauce for fish may be prepared by melting a quarter cup of butter or margarine and mixing well with four teaspoons of lemon juice and a half teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. Spoon the sauce over broiled filets just before serving. This will be enough for two to four servings.

Carrots With Beans

To ring a change mix diced carrots with cooked diagonal, sliced green snap beans; serve hot with butter or margarine or a cream sauce.

Broiled Bologna

Broil slices of bologna and they will form cups that may be filled with cream potatoes; sprinkle with paprika and garnish with parsley.

TAXI TIPS

A conversation yesterday, with a taxi driver who plainly had tried to avoid taking me as a passenger when a hotel doorman hailed him, brought out a situation both surprising and interesting to me. The point was that many taxi drivers actually do avoid the call of a hotel doorman, especially at the de luxe hotels and also especially in bad weather. The passenger, finding great difficulty in getting a taxi, gives the doorman an unusually handsome tip, overlooks the fact that it was not the taxi driver who received it—and gives him none at all.

Choosing Between Two Sisters

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister has asked a younger sister and myself to be in her wedding. To avoid hurting our feelings, I suppose, she has told us to decide which one is to be the attendant of honor. She suggested tossing a coin. Is this the way to decide or should I—the older sister—automatically be the attendant of honor?

Answer: You, as the older sister, should take precedence.

Gloves For Men

Dear Mrs. Post: Please give me the latest rules on gloves for men. I've worn dark gray silk gloves for years at church and in summer. I've worn white kid gloves at dances when in full dress, but in recent years I notice most men do not wear them. Also, are wing collars no longer worn with tuxedos?

Answer: Gray silk gloves are old-fashioned. White kid gloves are still correct with full dress, but today they are seen less often than yesterday. Wing collars are always correct with tuxedos, but the comfort of turned-down collars has made them equally correct with a tuxedo, but not with a dress suit.

Rising

Dear Mrs. Post: Does a man have to get up every time a woman enters the room? I'm referring to a party, when he is not the host.

Answer: He should get up for the first arrivals and, after that, whenever a lady joins the group he is sitting with.

Today's typical wedding is the small wedding at moderate expense. Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-8, gives details. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Cross-Ruff Sets Up This Slam Hand

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

When Harry Salter came over to see me the other day, I thought I was going to be able to let the bridge players in on a secret. Harry is the musical director of "Stop the Music," which is heard Sunday nights over the American Broadcasting Company network.

I asked Harry how they selected the "mystery tune." He said that he has three different research men, all unknown to each other. When a tune is selected and he prepares the orchestration, it is given a different name so that the musicians in the orchestra do not know its real name.

When I told him that his program interferes with a lot of bridge games, he replied, "You and Pettitello give me trouble, too."

It seems that they rehearse for three or four hours at a time, but the musicians are given a five-minute intermission every hour.

"The first thing they do," said Harry, "is to grab a deck of cards and start either a bridge game or a gin game. When the five minutes are up, just try to start the music."

This is easy to understand, especially when a fellow gets in a contract like the one in today's hand. North has quite a problem. He cannot ruff out three diamonds because he does not have enough entries. If he allows the first diamond trick to hold, he will have to guess the heart finesse.

So he ruffs the first diamond in dummy, leads the deuce of clubs and ruffs it in his own hand. A small heart is played and dummy's jack is finessed. When it holds, the seven of clubs is led and trump.

Declarer then leads the ten of hearts, wins it in dummy with the king and returns to his own hand by playing the five of spades to his ace. The ace of hearts picks up the last trump, dummy is re-entered with a spade and all the spades and clubs are good. Thus declarer makes seven-odd.

Newspaper Morgues

By FRANK TRIPP

A friend who can take it as well as dish it out says that a disadvantage about dying is that one never gets to read his obituary. He said he would enjoy seeing his. So I told him he could—feeling cheerful-like that day.

You'd be surprised how many hearty individuals could read their own obituaries if they knew how to go about it. Perhaps yours has already been written. Of course you can live long enough to make it incomplete.

Or you still can cut some caper that would consign a flowery eulogy to the wastebasket and put the news of your demise at the mercy of a hard-boiled police reporter.

But if your obit already exists and you keep to the narrow path, though you live to a ripe old age, only the last chapters need be written when the grim reaper comes.

Newspaper libraries—morgues we call them—are interesting places. They're called morgues because dead news of the past is catalogued there. Whenever an important, near-important or notorious person dies, the morgue can produce the facts about him; also a picture, perhaps many pictures. That's where those funny, outdated pictures come from that you see sometimes.

AS LIFE MOVES ON, people make news. They grow up, graduate from grade school, high school and college. They are active in sports, politics and professions. They get married, have children, make speeches, serve their community. Some smash up cars, go hay-wire, some get into court and into jail. Only two events are common to all of them: All are born and all die.

Nature and the universe are greater and more enduring than humans. Yet people and their pranks constitute the major interests of our lives—and take up the most file space in day-to-day history as newspapers tuck facts away for future reference.

A COMPLETE and orderly newspaper morgue will reveal almost everything of any importance which has happened to a community or its appeal over scores of years. If you get to appear there at all it will be when you commit some brilliant or devilish deed which thrusts you into the news. Once your file starts it will swell in proportion to your conspicuity, be your trend good or evil. If you come conspicuously enough, some day an editor will plunk your file down on a reporter's desk and say, "Give me an obit on that bird." The reason would be that you were real sick or had just challenged Joe Louis.

Of one thing the newspaper is certain: some day it will have to chronicle your passing. If you rate more than the formal, respectful notice of last rites, it becomes convenient to have your story ready. It is akin to the foresight which causes some to buy their own headstone, with only their death date to be clipped thereon.

DON'T BE SUPERSTITIOUS about it. If it had any ill omens, such as hastening a subject's departure from this realm, I am sure that all newspapermen who have access to a morgue would forthwith gleefully pen obits for some of the varmints they have met. I can think of a few myself. But there is no record of supernatural results from having a headstone in place or an obituary on file.

One time a country newspaper, prematurely and with considerable satisfaction, announced the death of a politician it disliked. The politician demanded a retraction, presenting himself in person as evidence of the false report. Stymied, the old editor wiggled out by saying:

"Maybe you aren't dead—as we hoped—but for 30 years we have never read anything we printed. We won't start now. Best we can do is try to work you in among the births."

Applications Are Received

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—The State Veterans' Bonus Bureau today said it still was receiving applications for World War 2 bonuses at the rate of 1,500 to 2,000 a week. The bureau reported that during its first year of operation, 1948, it paid out $311,682,623 in bonus checks to 1,425,335 veterans and next of kin.

Bonus Bureau Director Gerald E. Rowley said the bonus payment job was about 90 per cent complete in the first year. The report for the year showed 974,250 persons received the maximum bonuses at the rate of 1,500 to 2,000 a week. The bureau reported that during its first year of operation, 1948, it paid out $311,682,623 in bonus checks to 1,425,335 veterans and next of kin.

WHACKY WINTER MAKES PEOPLE DO STRANGE THINGS

Bob Dexter, left, and Tony Crowder are looking for their automobile. A 74-inch snowfall blanketed the mountain resort of Lake Arrowhead, Calif., with drifts up to 17 feet in depth. Bob and Tony had to set to digging to find their car.

When Cleveland, O., City Councilman Henry W. Speeth urged that the city should use bathing girls to publicize its unusually mild winter, Erlene Trent took him at his word. She applied for the job, but Speeth wasn't home. He was headed for the beach.

Fruit Sales in '48 Totaled $34,695,000

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—The State Agriculture Department estimated today that sales of five major fruits produced in New York last year totaled $34,695,000. The comparable sales figure for 1947 was $33,404,000.

The department gave these figures for the 1948 crop:

Apples—$19,980,000 for 11,100,000 bushels.

Peaches—$2,598,000 for 1,114,000 bushels.

Pears—$344,000. (Crop total not given).

Grapes—6,382,000 for 60,780 tons.

Cherries—$4,875,000 for 2,350 tons of sweet cherries and 19,500 tons of sour.

The Agriculture Department also reported that the grain supply situation in New York was more satisfactory generally than a year ago.

The department said that as of January 1 there were 18,691,000 bushels of oats on New York farms and 5,016,000 bushels held in elevators and mills.

These figures compared with the total on farms a year ago of 9,603,000 bushels and off-farm holdings of 3,031,000 bushels.

Corn for grain on New York farms of 6,747,000 bushels together with 8,186,000 bushels in off-farm storages give a total nearly three times as great as last year, the Agriculture Department report said.

It added:

"New York farms had 1,926,000 bushels of barley January 1 and 1,551,000 bushels were in other storages, the total currently being about a fourth less than a year ago."

"Wheat stocks on New York farms January 1, placed at 4,109,000 bushels, were 30 per cent greater than last winter. Off-farm stocks amounting to 23,164,000 bushels were down 16 per cent."

Actress Has Operations

London, Jan. 31 (AP)—Myrna Loy was operated upon for appendicitis at the London Clinic today.

Doctors reported the surgery was performed "very successfully."

The Hollywood actress is to remain at the clinic for about two weeks then will go to the south of France for convalescence, said a London film production spokesman.

The spokesman said she will return to Britain next spring to "discuss with Alexander Korda the possibility of making another film in England."

Star's gossip column reported today that Miss Loy and her husband, Gene Markey, "are thinking of settling permanently in England." No confirmation could be obtained.

Dental Section Is Given Status

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—The State Health Department announced today that its dental health section has been given the status of a department bureau to carry on an expanded program.

A major function of the new bureau will be to increase its assistance to district, city and county health officers in setting up dental health programs on the local level.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, said the expanded dental health program calls for intensified control of dental decay with emphasis on the use of sodium fluoride on the teeth of children of school age and younger.

The program also will provide expanded postgraduate education for dentists on the diagnosis of cancer of the mouth.

Dr. David E. Ast will be director of the new dental health bureau. He headed the dental health section which until now has been a subdivision of the health department's maternal and child health bureau.

Local Hospitals On Approved List

The American College of Surgeons in its 31st annual hospital standardization report lists the Kingston Hospital, Benedictine Hospital and the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital among the 3,150 approved hospitals in the United States, Canada and a few other countries at the end of 1948.

A new development in Hospital Standardization applied to the first time in 1948 is a Point Rating System, which, according to Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern of Chicago, Associate Director in Charge of the Hospital Standardization program for the College, is an attempt to achieve a certain amount of precision in evaluating hospitals, with emphasis on the quality of professional services and care of the patient. He says:

"The enthusiasm with which hospitals have received the point rating system shows eagerness to raise standards by keeping up with advances in medical science, technology, and social welfare ideals. The rating system will act as a stimulus to improve scores from year to year. Scores for each department or division and the total score are disclosed only to the hospital. Full approval represents a score of 70 to 100 per cent; provisional approval, 60 to 69 per cent; and not approved, below 60 per cent. The average scores on surveys to date is approximately 75 per cent."

At its 50th annual convention, held in Atlantic City in September, the American Hospital Association adopted a resolution commending the approval program and the Point Rating System of the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. MacEachern praises the approved hospitals for their notable progress in organization, control and efficiency, leading to such results as the shortened average days stay to 10 days compared with 18 to 20 days a few years ago, and reduction in the death rate from 6 to 8 per cent to 3 to 4 per cent, and in many hospitals even lower. He adds:

"It is not enough, in measuring progress, to say that at the end of 1948 there are 3,150 approved hospitals, whereas in 1918 there were only 89. There is the further fact to consider that every one of the original 89 hospitals which is still in existence and approved is meeting a much higher standard now. The interpretation of the Standard for Hospitals constantly progresses."

Rain Is Forecast

The east and northeast, the forecast said, will get snow early but the New England states will not get precipitation until late Monday. New York city's expected snow fell shortly after 6 a. m. (E.S.T.). A U. S. Weather Bureau special bulletin predicted a "heavy accumulation" and strong winds for the metropolitan area. Strong winds with occasional rain will accompany the storm, the forecast said. Storm warnings were hoisted from Block Island to the Virginian Capes as the storm moved in from the south.

The unseasonal cold hit the lush Rio Grande valley in Texas hard. Below freezing temperatures were reported Sunday, endangering fruit crops. Northern Florida and southern Georgia had sleet and freezing rain.

Birthplace of Republic

Urge New 'Capricorn Africa'

Representatives of Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland will meet in February to draft a proposal for creation of a new dominion uniting British lands between the Equator and the Tropic of Capricorn, as shown in dark shading on map above. The plan calls for a Central African Dominion, composed of the two Rhodesias and Nyasaland and an East African Dominion, composed of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda, with final federation of the two as "Capricorn Africa." Supporters of the plan, pointing to potential strategic, economic and political advantages, say such a federation would be one of the most important events in African history.

Newton through whose generosity in making the Ulster County Chapter's residuary legacies in her estate it has been possible to purchase the property. Ban Is Upheld. Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld a Trenton, N. J., ban against sound trucks which send out "loud and raucous noises" after dark.

The 5-4 decision for the majority. Validity of the ban was contested by Charles Kovacs, international representative of the C.I.O. United Steel Workers. To establish a test case, he brought a sound truck in front of the Trenton city hall during a printers' strike. Kovacs was fined $50. He appealed to the Supreme Court with a contention that the ban violates the constitutional guarantee of free speech.

The sound truck ban is contained in one section of an eight-section anti-noise ordinance.

Advertising Ban Upheld. Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld the validity of a New York city traffic regulation which bars advertising vehicles from the streets. Justice Douglas delivered the unanimous decision. Justice Jackson wrote a concurring opinion. The regulation was attacked by Railway Express Agency, Inc., which operates some 1,900 trucks in New York city. Space on the sides of the trucks is leased for display of advertising posters.

gan reviewing the North Atlantic security plan last week. He is expected to meet with the other negotiators, the ambassadors of Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg in the immediate future. Diplomats predicted that they would tentatively agree to ask the other countries in.

This move had been planned all along as soon as the Scandinavian situation was cleared up. It took on added significance however with (1) Russia's assault on the North Atlantic project, (2) her direct pressure on Norway and (3) Stalin's Sunday maneuver to re-emphasize the Soviet contention that the Soviet Union seeks only peace in the world while the western powers are conspiring to start a war.

Associates indicated that Secretary of State Acheson would have to give the matter some thought before American response could be laid down.

It was noted privately, however, that in their opinion Stalin had not come forward with any concrete new proposals for settling the world's problems even on the Berlin blockade, about which he spoke more specifically than any other issue.

Quicker Pace Assured. Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—Democratic congressional leaders talked over the legislative outlook with President Truman today and assured him they will push his program at a brisk pace.

Speaker Rayburn said he told Mr. Truman the House will take up reciprocal trade agreements legislation next week. The President wants repeal of restrictions the Republican-controlled 80th Congress put on his powers to make tariff-lowering trade agreements with other nations.

Rayburn said leaders are aiming for early House action also on legislation to raise the minimum wage from the present 40 cents an hour to 75 cents. The hope is to end hearings Friday.

Special Squad Is Busy. New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—A special burglary squad of 42 detectives has been created to halt thefts that have plagued swank hotels and penthouses on the upper East Side, it was learned today.

Friday morning thieves walked off with two fur coats worth $28,000 from the fashionable Hotel Pierre suite of Sonja Henie, blonde Norwegian ice skating star, in the latest of the series of robberies. The new squad is reportedly active between 7 p. m. and 4 a. m. when wealthy East Siders are in theatres and night clubs and the jewel thieves are particularly busy.

$1,766,454 State Bonus Payments For Ulster Vets

Albany, Jan. 31—Bonus claimants—veterans and next of kin—numbering 1,425,395 received New York state veterans' bonus checks totalling $311,682,623.80 during the first year of operation of the Veterans' Bonus Bureau of the Department of Taxation and Finance, according to a year-end report released today by Spencer E. Bates, commissioner of taxation and finance.

The Bureau's 1948 report, submitted to Commissioner Bates by Bureau Director Gerald E. Rowley, included a county breakdown estimate based on known factors, which showed first-year payments aggregating $1,766,454 to 8,103 veterans and next of kin in Ulster county.

It showed that New York city payments numbered 809,848 and totalled $177,810,823, while upstate New York payments went to 615,549 and aggregated $133,871,800.

Mr. Rowley reported that the bonus payment job was about 90 per cent completed in the first year, pointing out that the state had 1,000,000 individual payments made during the first quarter of 1948.

There is no future time limit for filing for the New York bonus and applications were still being received at a rate of 1,500 to 2,000 a week as the second year of operation was begun.

Additional thousands of veterans, now unable to qualify because of the requirements of residence in the state at the time of filing for the bonus, will become eligible next year if the Legislature this year again votes approval of a pending constitutional amendment and if the people vote approval at the polls next November.

Bonus administration costs continue to run far below estimates in the report points out. The World I state bonus cost $1.85 per claim to administer and it had been estimated that the present bonus would, because of increased costs, require an expenditure of about $2.50 per claim. At the end of the first year, however, administrative cost—even including that of pre-audit—amounted to less than $1.06 per claim.

The report indicated an almost total absence of litigation although more than 75,000 applications had to be rejected in part or in whole. Partial rejections, most of them for lack of overseas service during the war period, numbered 50,399. Complete rejections, in which applicants could not establish eligibility for any payment, numbered 26,368.

Court action was initiated by applicants in only six of the more than 1,400,000 cases so far handled, Mr. Rowley reported, and in those six cases satisfactory determinations were made following hearings and without further judicial action. Altogether, review and hearing machinery of the Bonus Bureau settled more than 6,500 cases, 3,404 applications being approved and 1,655 denied after review, and 1,099 being approved and 536 denied after hearings. Only 1,582 decisions remained pending at the end of the year, waiting on further information.

A new process to crack rock thousands of feet under ground to permit the flow of oil to the well-holes from which it is pumped to the surface utilizes jelled gasoline, one of the war's most horrible incendiary weapons.

The cash receipts from cafeteria sales from September through December were $21,044.54 with other revenues amounting to $5,228.01, bringing the total receipts to $26,272.55. Food, labor and other costs of operation were $36,195.73. An inventory of $6,095.89 on hand at the end of the month leaves a total operating cost of $30,099.84. The lunch fund for the first four months of the school year shows a deficit of $3,827.29.

Cannon Says Cut May Be Made in Truman's Budget

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee said today "without a doubt we will be able to reduce" President Truman's $41,858,000,000 budget.

"But how much, and whether the cut will be large enough to avoid a tax increase," he said, "nobody can tell."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), said in a broadcast yesterday that federal, state and local taxes now approximate $60,000,000,000—or nearly 27 per cent of the nation's income—and he declared:

"If we don't hold government down, we are going to kill the whole free enterprise system."

Taft, Chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, proposed again a $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 cut in the President's budget.

Cannon said such statements "must be influenced by partisanship." He challenged the G.O.P. leader to say specifically what government services and functions he would discontinue.

Studies already made by the appropriations subcommittees have disclosed certain areas where expenditures can be trimmed, Cannon said. He added, however, it is impossible for anybody at this time to estimate with any accuracy the total savings that can be made.

Mr. Truman, in his budget message, forecast a deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and asked for a $4,000,000,000 hike in taxes. It would fall largely on corporations. The proposal has met a cool reception in Capitol Hill and a bi-partisan economy bloc, led by Senator Byrd (D-Va.), now is organizing for a drive to trim the spending figure.

Beards Are Unpopular
Item in Soviet Russia

Moscow (AP)—Contrary to belief abroad there are probably fewer beards in Russia than there are in the British Royal Navy. Plentiful barber shops, the low price of shaves, and inexpensive multi-cutting machinery have made the beard an easy thing to get rid of.

The Tsars—particularly Peter the Great—tried for years to make the pre-Revolutionary Russian male come clean by official edict. But they were unsuccessful. The Russian beard not only grew, but flourished.

The Soviet has never assaulted the beard with law or lectures. They've just let it go its own way—and the way, judging from the sartorial scene in the U.S.R.—has been off the face.

True, patriarals and other churchmen cling to bosom-long beards, or to be more correct, the bosom-long beards cling to the churchmen.

But even in the country these days one encounters but few beards.

Winans listed as missing an $80,000 ring carrying a 24-carat diamond, a $45,000 diamond platinum ring, a $60,000 diamond bracelet, a $30,000 diamond necklace, an $18,000 diamond ring, a $14,000 set of diamond earrings, a $9,500 platinum and diamond watch, a $1,000 emerald and diamond ring. In addition to the jewelry, Winans said $275, in cash is missing.

Medina Denies Motion

New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina today again denied a motion that he disqualify himself from hearing a challenge to the jury-picking system here by counsel to 11 indicted top U. S. Communists. At the same time, Medina denied a motion that all other judges in the Southern Federal District of New York be disqualified from hearing the motion. Defense counsel contend that the method of picking jurors here is discriminatory.

Tobin Goes to Congress, Urges T-H Law Be Replaced

What's Going Up

Although the dollar value of new housing scheduled for 1949 is expected to reach a record $18,750,000, the number of housing units to be started probably will not equal the 1948 mark. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' forecast of 1949 construction, 50,000 fewer new permanent non-farm dwelling units will be started this year than last year.

Reoux of Warrensburg, leader of last year's unsuccessful drive to pass the Young-Milnoe bill which would have raised state aid for education by $103,000,000.

A 1949 version of the rejected bill has been introduced by Assemblyman Wheeler Milnoe of Canastota, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee.

It would increase state aid for schools by $60,000,000 above the mandated $41,800,000, or $20,000,000 above the amount proposed by Devey last Monday.

Reoux, in a letter calling tomorrow's meeting, said:

"Of the 28 Republican members of the Assembly who supported the Young-Milnoe bill during the 1948 session, 24 are members of the 1949 session. In addition to this, there are a number of other Republican assemblymen committed or pledged to support of the Young-Milnoe bill or some measure of a similar nature providing increased state aid."

"I am sure it is apparent to all of us that the entire problem of state aid in all its phases is much more acute now than it was a year ago. In view of this, I think we should meet for a discussion of the entire problem as well as the various solutions so far suggested, together with any other ideas which any of us may have on the subject."

Reoux said the meeting was "in no manner to be construed by anyone as the beginning of a revolt."

He did not explain why he invited only the 24 remaining assemblymen of the 28 who rebelled last year.

Linon with a calcium compound is the material from which cigarette paper is made.

He also said this law has "brought confusion" into the field of labor relations and has "unnecessarily limited the rights of workers to strike."

After this assault, Tobin argued that the administration bill "regulates collective bargaining only where restraints are needed, and practicable."

He said the bill "seeks to develop a system of labor relations under which both labor and management, with the friendly assistance of government, can live together, and solve their own problems."

Tobin defended the bill's proposed transfer of the United States Conciliation Service, now independent into the Labor Department. Replying in advance to the contention that the service could not be impartial as a part of the Labor Department, Tobin said:

"I cannot state too strongly that I, as secretary of labor, consider myself to represent the more than 140,000,000 American people and every segment of our economy."

Commerce Group Tries to Put City On Day Line Card

Announcement over the weekend that the Hudson River Day Line may change hands and be continued this summer has resulted in the Kingston Chamber of Commerce taking immediate steps to learn whether the new operators can be induced to continue Kingston Point on its schedule of operation.

It was announced that George Sanders of the Sutton Lines, Inc., of 24 State street, New York city, was interested in purchasing the Day Line from the Olcott family and continuing the line to Poughkeepsie.

Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, has written Mr. Sanders stating that in the event his company does purchase the line, the Kingston Chamber of Commerce would be interested in having the line continue its boats to Kingston Point where the Day Line owns a splendid park. Mr. Kurdt offered to meet Mr. Sanders at any time in New York to discuss the proposal.

In a letter to Mr. Sanders it was pointed out that Kingston is only fifteen miles north of Poughkeepsie and within distance for making a round trip from New York. He calls attention to the fact that Kingston Point is a focal point for all Ulster-Greene vacation lands areas and that by operating the boats to Kingston Point many people would be conveyed to Kingston and from here take buses or other means of transportation to the Catskill mountain areas. Attention is also called to the existence of the Mountain Division of the New York Central lines directly at the Day Line dock and the fact that formerly summer trains operated from the Point to the mountain resorts which number some 2,000 hotels and boarding houses in the mountain area. Also in the area there are many camps for youths and boat facilities could transport many of these people to the area.

Particular attention is called to the 20 acre park at Kingston Point which is a part of the Day Line's property and for many years attracted picnic parties which came by boat. To operate Day Line boats to Kingston Point Park could be built into a profitable business in conjunction with the park where thousands of excursionists formerly used the park facilities.
